

Fiverr Provides Opportunity for Everyone to Get Video SEO for Only $25

(PRBuzz.com) January 28, 2013 -- Everyone can now get video SEO for only $25 on Fiverr with the help of their video gigs on YouTube. With the help of Fiverr, it's possible to possess a video made on YouTube and be the number one ranked on Google's first page. It is simpler to rank videos on YouTube for high ranking keywords compared to ranking websites.

In addition, Fiverr shares 5 gigs that will get everyone's video on YouTube included on Google's first page. The primary gig is to bookmark the video using the Magic Submitter, which will take the URL of the YouTube video and send it to a hundred bookmarking websites. The second is Fiverr will take the video and convert it to a RSS feed and send it to more than 27 directories of RSS. The third is called the drip feed link gig, in which Fiverr will take the URL of the video, YouTube URL channel, as well as the link of the video and drip feed 1500 profile and four links for 30 days. The fourth gig is Fiverr will send the video on YouTube to 50 wiki websites. Fiverr will take the three URLs cited on the third gig and they will put 300 to 500 relevant texts and send it to PR wiki websites. The fifth and final Fiverr gig on video SEO is Fiverr will be going to tweet the URL of the YouTube video to more than 20,000 followers of Twitter. Then, Twitter followers will retweet the YouTube video 100 times by means of using different Twitter accounts.

The cost of creating a Video SEO if these services are individually purchased are extremely expensive including paying Magic Submitter for $67 per month, $45 a month to drip feed links, and almost $67 monthly on Synnd, which provides signals on social media. In order to sustain these kinds of services, everyone needs to pay at least $120 per month. However, not everyone have lots of time learning all these services as well as keep track of video rankings and searching for LSI keywords. Fiverr offers these services in order to boost the YouTube ranking for only $25.

With Fiverr's help, everyone can have a distinct advantage over their competition with regard to video SEO. ###
